Genesis

Is the story of man's physical creation true or have we evolved by chance from the apes as some Evolutionists claim? The answer is "no" in both cases. The tape examines both theories and leads towards the alternative, and reconciling explanation.

Our thoughts are guided through a series of scenes and images providing an easy and delightful bridge to deep meditative stress, and is very relaxing. Utilises Mike Rowland's meditational music tape, "Fairy Ring".

Inner and Outer Worlds Who am I? Where do I come from? Where am I going? and What is the meaning and purpose of my life? Answers to these basic questions cannot be found in the world around us for they relate to a higher level of our life. We need to come into touch with the spiritual dimension - that of soul which is our inner world. We need to rediscover this level and the spiritual teachings of Emanuel Swedenborg provide a helpful means via his explanation of the lost science of Correspondences. Everything in the outer world mirrors deeper aspects of our psyche.

Healing of the Spirit, The Healing the spirit of spiritual sickness and disease such as jealousy or self pity is of greater importance than healing of the body alone. It is such spiritual illnesses that are the real subject of stories in the Gospels. The way in which we can experience truly spiritual healing, and why this is sometimes delayed, is explained according to spiritual principles of life.

These patterns can also be found in sacred scriptures and several illustrations from the Bible are covered.

The Secret Years of Jesus Christ (3 CDs)

The Gospels tell us very little about the life of Jesus until he was about 30 years old. But those unknown years have been unveiled in the spiritual sense of the Old Testament. Today it enables us to look into the mind of Jesus during those early formative years and the story is astounding and humbling at the same time. This most fascinating subject is developed by Christopher Hasler in several sessions. The three CD's are a slightly edited version of the Workshop itself, which took on 8th November 1997.

Myths, Symbols, Parables

The world is an appearance; everything we encounter is a phenomenon. We never come to grips with reality. Many hints of the real world are given to us in symbolic forms as myths and parables. Some of these are examined in this talk, given on 17th September 1993 at the Swedenborg Centre, using the Science of Correspondences.

Ancient Egyptian Hieroglyphs

There is a language of spirit which stands behind the language of the written word. Many modern Egyptologists have laboriously uncovered exact literal meanings with the words written in hieroglyphic script. This is a noble task. However, students of Swedenborg know that Egyptian Hieroglyphs are pure correspondences which relate to spiritual things, and must be taken into account. Some hieroglyphs have a direct bearing upon the transformation process, and these are examined in this talk to see their relevance to modern life.

Brogan, John

Sacred Architecture

What is sacred architecture and why is it important to us today. The geometry, number systems & symbols of ancient buildings link man to the Earth, the Sun, the Universe and his quest to experience higher states within himself. To find his soul man needs to focus his thoughts in an orderly way. Sacred Architecture is such a focus.

Ancient Wisdom-Ancient Church.

John looks at the Egyptian civilisation which lasted for 3,000 years and seeks to find the driving forces that made it so successful. John will show in what ways the Ancient Church, told to us in the correspondences carved into the Temple at Luxor, impact on our lives today and on Christianity.

Chaos, Meaning and God

There are times, even in recent history, when mankind appears to have returned to barbarism. The signal is when people say: "I don't know what the world is coming to"; and mean it. The seemingly chaotic worldly events today can leave us searching for the meaning of it all. This search can lead one to the Divine.

Anatomy of a Church.

The form and precise proportion of our churches, particularly the Gothic cathedrals of France, have a much earlier genesis for the cruciform plan and the spaces we call the nave, transept, chancel, sanctuary and apse. This presentation is accompanied by slides and traces the development of each of these spaces and how they correspond to the spiritual needs of the worshipper.

Drury, Nevill

The New Age

Sub-titled "Searching for the Spiritual Self", this talk provides an overview of the nature and rise of the contemporary New Age movement - what it is, how it developed, where it is heading now - and refers to four major precursors, being Madame Blavatsky, Gurdjieff, Mesmer and, of course, Swedenborg.

Shamanism & Shamanic Drumming

Shamanism is the world's earliest spiritual practice, dating back to the Paleolithic era. Nevill explains the background to traditional shamanism. It was during the 1980s that American anthropologist Dr Michael Harner adapted traditional shamanic practice for a modern western audience and showed how shamanic drumming could be used as an adjunct to visualization in order to gain access to the mythic world. Nevill learnt this technique firsthand from Dr Harner. The process is explained and the drumming experienced.

Duckworth, Julian

Diary of a Mystic

Looks at Swedenborg's own accounts of his altered states, visions, dreams, dual consciousness, clairvoyance and other manifestations of psychic and paranormal experience.

Swedenborg's Christ

Looks carefully at the need for God to incarnate into this world and what it accomplished, and also explores the corresponding personal truth that the Lord comes into our own individual 'world'.

In the delightful and powerful love story of Eros and Psyche we are shown the dynamics of our own existence and potential through struggles and events that embody love, freedom, conflict and union - the story of our own personal integration.

Across the Universe – What exactly is all this?

During the illustrated presentation we work towards a better understanding of God and of ourselves through exploring what has been created.

How do we feel God?

It covers a number of ways in which certain people have felt that they have experienced God, either directly or indirectly. It also looks closely at what we mean when we make use of the word "God".

Dunne, Claire

Carl Jung: Wounded Healer of the Soul

Eldar, Paul

Emanuel Swedenborg: An Overview

This presentation provides a pithy and helpful overview of Swedenborg's life and revelation, particularly relating the latter to the mainstream thinkers of his day.

Swedenborg & 21st Century

Explores the ways his writings will become more relevant and meaningful as we move through the new century.

Swedenborg: Restorer of Christianity.

Christianity is like a ship encrusted with various barnacles and in danger of sinking under their weight. With the help of Swedenborg's spiritual writings, these can be removed thereby freeing the vessel to sail again.

Swedenborg: A Prophet for Our Time.

Swedenborg's experiences enabled him to pursue the goals of a true mystic. Implied in his voluminous writings are possibilities that are very important for resolving the spiritual crisis facing all mankind today, especially in the west. These are examined in depth.

Holst, Kirk

The Ego Mind.

Swedenborg wrote definitively in regards to what he observed as our gateway to hell. He used the Latin word Proprium to describe what we now call "the ego". To understand Swedenborg's proprium is to understand the human condition and the root cause of it. Equally, to believe in our higher mind, our God within us, is to relinquish the grip in which our ego holds us.

Health & Vitality

Though we live in an age of advanced technology and medical achievement that has increased our longevity over the last century, statistics reveal that many illnesses are on the increase. Kirk Holst explores whether Swedenborg and the New Paradigm Science can explain this phenomena.

Jarvis, Neville

Swedenborg: His Endeavours.

From family records, travel diaries, official reports, letters and anecdotal material, the factual life of Emanuel Swedenborg has been well documented. Some of the more personal issues which came to the surface from time to time are looked at.

Seeing's Believing: Truth in Action.

Neville explores what Swedenborg offers in terms of a living faith as a necessary part of our spiritual development or regeneration.

Developing Spiritual Maturity: The '3 R's' approach.

The teachings of Swedenborg present a model for achieving spiritual maturity consisting of three distinctive stages through which we need to progress. Each has its own characteristics and practical tools by which we can gradually bring our lives into harmony with the Divine life. Neville provides an overview of Swedenborg's approach.

Millar, David

Navigating Our Spiritual Development ~Swedenborg's Writings as Compass & Map

Drawing from Swedenborg's most popular work, Heaven and Hell, these 2 talks explore the concrete description of the process of awakening from death in terms of the fluidity of our own experience of awakening to spiritual life while in the world.

Opening to Divine Presence through Sacred Scripture

David offers insights into Swedenborg's process of coming to see the true nature of the Sacred Scripture as the Word of the Lord. The power of the Biblical text to transform the very structure of the human mind into a heavenly form is at the very heart of the revelatory teaching Swedenborg was given.

Maitland, John

Understanding Sickness and disease through Swedenborg

The man-in-the-street's perception of modern medicine is that it is really only his body that is sick; that there is therefore a pill or medication for most ailments. Swedenborg outlines a different model for understanding illness and health.

Swedenborg: a man of his time, a man for all time

This talk will examine some aspects of the intellectual culture of Swedenborg's era and seek to trace the extent to which they aid in understanding his thinking, especially his religious work.

Moffat, David

Entertaining Angels

Swedenborg's writings contain insights into the being and nature of angels, and provide many pointers to help us foster angelic associations. While not being able to shake hands with them, practising what Swedenborg recommends to us will most certainly bring us closer to the influence of angels, which will benefit our spiritual and natural lives.

Spiritual Growth: Tips and pointers

David has collected much material, especially from Swedenborg's spiritual writings, which provide principles and methods for assisting in spiritual growth.

Negro, Martine

Energetics of Healing

"Energetics of Healing" refers to the dynamic processes and interactions between the various levels of our being - physical, psychological, emotional, spiritual - that are involved in healing (as well as in disease) and appreciating how these internal processes manifest through these levels.

Health and Correspondences: Towards inner and outer harmony

Even though "blushing" is an obvious outer expression of an uncomfortable inner state, it is not as obvious when one generates high blood pressure, rash or chronic pain from an inner highly emotionally charged issue. Martine discusses the subtle manifestations of inner correspondences, looking at how we reconnect with them.

O'Neill, Brian

Swedenborg's Dream Diary

At a time when Swedenborg was changing to become a spiritual seer, he found himself confronted with profound dreams and visions. Immediately after each one occurred, it was recorded in a private diary and interpreted by him. He later realised that the experiences were part of his breakthrough into his higher level of consciousness - heaven and hell.

Skinner, Chris

What Can we Expect When we Die

Insights from Swedenborg's teachings will be offered on what we might expect from the process of transition from this world to the next, to what life may be like as we go from a material to a spiritual world.

Sutherland, Cherie

Walsh, Gary
