

Swedenborg Association of Australia

Melbourne Group

20 May 2021

Greetings,

Our next meeting details are:

Date: 28 May 2021 commencing at 7.30pm

Where: 20 Duerdin Street, Clayton (Unit 3), the premises of The New Church (Swedenborgian). Duerdin Street is off Blackburn Road, virtually opposite Monash University. You can park in the bays immediately in front of Units 2 and 3 and the bays on the opposite side of the road entrance to Unit 3.

Subject: How to achieve inner tranquillity when times are in turmoil?
For much of the time in life these days, we are either in the midst of circumstances which create difficult personal challenges or are confronted with disturbing and distressing worldly events. Being able to maintain any sense of an inner peace when faced with such circumstances requires us first to understand its source. The spiritual writings of Emanuel Swedenborg provide useful insights for bringing a lasting inner peace which can be present even when our outer lives are experiencing the opposite.

Speaker: Rev. David Moffat will lead a discussion on processes involved incorporating material from Swedenborg's writings.

Entry Donation: $5 to help cover costs.
Light refreshments will be provided following the presentation and discussion.

I hope you will be able to make it in which case please do have a face mask with you to meet the continuing Covid restrictions.

Should you have any questions about the evening or if you are uncertain about getting to Unit 3 at 20 Duerdin Street, Clayton, please do not hesitate to contact me either by email (swedenborgvictoria@gmail.com) or phone (0490 494 009 leaving a message if necessary). I will have the phone with me on the evening.

With every good wish,

Neville Jarvis, Group Coordinator
