Riley Lee (shakuhachi) and Clíona Molins (harp) create a meditative atmosphere of introspection and calm with classic Irish and original melodies.

This year marks the 10-year anniversary of Riley and Clíona performing together. They have been invited to play at the 2022 National Folk Festival in Canberra. Their music combines the intimate knowledge of two ancient instruments from very distinct cultural backgrounds (Japan and Ireland). While influenced by classical and world music, their original compositions are mostly inspired by themes of water, seasons, and rebirth in nature.

There will be a short interval of 15 mins where light refreshments will be available.

Bookings are essential ($35) as places are limited. Book at -
